ICPC South Central Regional Programming Contest

SBT Events

Hello Institutional,

Though we're nearing the end of the fall 2024 semester, our students are continuing to make waves in the areas of business and technology.

This past spring, two teams of computer science students successfully competed at the ICPC Texas-Mexico Invitational Programming Contest, which spanned across universities in Texas and Mexico. Following this achievement, our students were invited to compete at the fall 2024 ICPC South Central Regional Contest in Houston, Texas. Each team consisted of three students collaborating to innovatively solve real-world programming problems, and our team solved a considerable number of problems using Python.

After five grueling hours, our team finished in second place, bringing silver medals home to HT. The team consisted of high-achieving computer science students, including Joy Itodo, Abdulwakil Abdulkadir, and Joshua Umoru.

We would like to recognize our students, whose hard work and dedication exemplify the School of Business and Technology at Huston-Tillotson University, and we warmly invite our community to celebrate their remarkable accomplishments with us as we continue to foster an environment that nurtures excellence and empowers our future leaders.

SBT GUEST SPEAKER
David Gatchell
Entrepreneur | Author | Federal Contractor

Deep Dive #2: Real Estate

The SBT concluded our fall Deep Dive series with a panel discussion focused on the many facets within the Real Estate industry.

Educational and encouraging insights were shared by seasoned professionals within the residential, commercial, and private equity spaces. We heard unique perspectives from Sonia and Anthony Hanchett, Jon Mendoza, Robert Sherwood, Hampton Friedman, and our moderator, David Steinwedell.

We appreciated everyone who has connected with our vibrant HT community, where learning flourishes in a supportive atmosphere, paving the way for professional development and personal growth.

Guest Speaker: David Gatchell

Every fall semester, community leaders and entrepreneurs are invited to share their journeys with students in our Professional Development class.

This November, we had the privilege of learning about the academic and professional experiences of David Gatchell, entrepreneur and author.

Mr. Gatchell shared stories about his experience as a federal contractor to the U.S. government in areas of engineering and construction management. He also gifted our students copies of his recently published book, The Financial Empowerment Handbook, which can be downloaded for free this holiday weekend.
