Unveiling the 2024 - 2025 SBT Academic Magazine!

SBT Events

Greetings!

We are thrilled to announce the long-awaited release of the 2024-2025 Academic Magazine, The Innovator, available digitally right now!

This year's edition is particularly special as it coincides with a monumental milestone: the 150th anniversary of Huston-Tillotson University. As we celebrate a century and a half of excellence, this magazine serves as a vibrant testament to the enduring curiosity and intellectual achievement that defines our institution.

Inside, you will find an inspiring collection of work, highlighting the best innovative thinking from across our majors. Discover groundbreaking student research, explore empowering financial wellness, and read about the MBA's global trip to Ghana!

The magazine's theme this year is both a nod to our rich 150-year history and the future-focused contributions of our current community. We invite you to dive into the pages and see the extraordinary work being done every day that continues to build upon our storied legacy.

Highlights

HT's Sesquicentennial Gala

As we look back at our Sesquicentennial Gala last Friday, October 24, 2025, we are delighted to recognize the exemplary support of our corporate partners.

We extend our sincere gratitude to J.P. Morgan Chase (JPMC) for their generous commitment to our students. JPMC extended an invitation to two of our exceptional students to sit at their corporate table during the futuristic-themed celebration, ensuring that our future leaders had an invaluable opportunity to network with industry professionals and senior executives from JPMC.

This is a direct investment in student success, connecting our best and brightest Rams with one of the world's leading financial institutions as we celebrated 150 years of excellence!

Professional Development Week

Fall 2025 Professional Development Week

We are still riding the wave of energy from our recent Professional Development Week!

The week was a resounding success, packed with opportunities for our students to gain critical skills, build lasting connections, and strategize for their future careers.

We wrapped up the week with a phenomenal Professional Development Mixer, where over twenty industry firms connected directly with our students. The week truly reaffirmed the power of collaboration in fostering professional growth, connecting knowledge, and igniting passion across our Austin community. A massive thank you to all our partners who made this possible.
