Your New Source of Mental Fuel!

SBT Events

Greetings!

The SBT SPEAK series—your brain's new favorite source of mental fuel—has officially wrapped its debut run! We hope you were able to catch some of the incredible energy surrounding the speaker series, but if you missed out, don't worry—the insights are now available for your binge-watching pleasure.

What is SBT SPEAK?

Created by the School of Business and Technology for the Huston-Tillotson University community, the series delivered on its promise: Sharing Perspectives, Expertise, Ambition, and Knowledge. We brought together students, professors, and industry leaders to share short, powerful talks that inspire and challenge how we see the world.

Ready to enter a space where bold ideas, passion, and innovation take center stage?

The full library of talks is now available. Click the link below, grab your preferred beverage, and prepare to learn something new.

Highlights

The Enron Whistleblower

Our Principles of Management class received a masterclass in moral courage when we were profoundly honored to welcome Ms. Sherron Watkins, the iconic Enron whistleblower, to the School of Business and Technology.

Her session was a powerful, firsthand account of the Enron scandal and the immense ethical courage it took to speak up—a crucial reminder that management principles are fundamentally about integrity, ethics, and corporate culture. This is a lesson our students will carry with them throughout their careers!

But the learning didn't stop in the lecture hall! Following her powerful talk, Ms. Watkins received a VIP tour of the campus, personally guided by one of our exceptional students, Shantjeur Pratt, who serves as a RAMbassador.

It was wonderful to see one of the nation's most respected ethical leaders connect with one of our brightest future leaders!

SBT Academic Magazine

The magazine's theme this year is both a nod to our rich 150-year history and the future-focused contributions of our current community.

While we feature groundbreaking student research, a look at the MBA's global trip to Ghana, and the best innovative thinking from across our majors, the central theme is one that directly impacts our community: Financial Wellness.

Inside, you will find empowering features dedicated to demystifying personal finance, building generational wealth, and ensuring a financially secure future for our community. We invite you to dive into the pages and see the extraordinary work being done every day that continues to build upon our storied legacy.

Thank you to every student, faculty member, and staff member who contributed to making this the most memorable edition yet.
